Pretty much all of the honest truth telling in the world is done by children.

– Oliver Wendell Holmes

Attitudes Toward Time

(From The Public School Administrator (September 1992))

“One who every morning plans the transactions of the day and follows out that plan carries a thread that will guide one through the labyrinth of the most busy life. The orderly arrangement of time is like a ray of light which darts itself through all his occupations. But where no plan is laid, where the disposal of time is surrendered merely to the chance of incidents, chaos will soon reign.” – Victor Hugo

Using time effectively is dependent on just one thing – your daily identification of priorities of the things you have to do. You must decide what the important objectives are in your life and then establish priorities every day in relation to these objectives. Perhaps this truth of self-management is so simple it escapes many people, and they start getting up-tight about “time”.

These frustrations of time are largely due to your attitudes toward time. Many of these attitudes are based on false assumptions. For example, you have been told that to be successful you must learn to manage your time. This is impossible. You cannot “Manage time”. It is frustrating to think you can manage something over which you have absolutely no control. But, you can learn to manage yourself. You have been working on this most of your life.

Another false assumption is when you say, “I don’t have time to do that.” Probably not so. You have the time. You just do not choose to spend it in that manner. It is probably an unpleasant task that you would rather not do. That’s OK, but why blame time? Or how about, “She has more time than I do.” Everybody has the same amount of time. But everybody spends it doing different things by choice or habit. Do you have anxieties about time? It is probably caused by trying to do too many tasks in too short a time span.

The point is that you should not be feeding all these negative attitudes of frustration and anxiety about time into your subconscious. Self-management and person responsibility should be your concern, not time. Time is what your life is made of. It’s sweet and precious. You should not be getting uptight about it. Let’s see if we can develop a greater understanding by discussing it.

1. All great achievers have been great planners. They have the ability to organize their activity, sort out the unimportant from the important things, and invest their time in productive meaningful effort. List the activities you engage in for a day.
 - a. How many were essential as compared too trivial?
 - b. How many were planned previously?
 - c. Did you list any time spent in planning?
 - d. Was there any time spent on a long-range goal?
 - e. Self-improvement?
2. What negative affirmations are you using about time,” or “There aren’t enough hours in the day.” Or “I can’t seem to manage my time.”
3. What are your feelings and attitudes towards time? Positive? Negative? Describe.
4. The feeling that you do not have enough time is probably the frustration from lack of self-satisfactions or fulfillment. One of the best remedies for this is to grow a little every day (improve yourself), and to accomplish just a little on a long-range goal.
5. Self-management, planning and developing a system in relation to time are the secrets of getting things done. Any system or plan has to be kept simple or it won’t work. What is your reaction to either one or both of the following?

- a. At the close of each day write down the 5 most important things you have to do the next day. Then list them in the order of their importance. The next day start working on the most important thing. Don't be concerned if you don't finish all 5 things. You will always be working on the most important thing.
 - b. Or, at the end of each day, list the things you have to do the next day. The next day do the most unpleasant thing first. Your day will become more enjoyable as it goes along. You will get more done because you will have the enjoyable things to do last. A good way to eliminate procrastination!
6. Do you have a system that works for managing yourself, getting yourself organized? If so, share it with others.
 7. When is the best time to do each activity? How often?
 8. What positive affirmations and self-images can you use to get the most accomplished each day and make better use of time?
 9. Jot down a simple schedule or system that you can use to make better use of your time and manage yourself more effectively.
 10. What effect will reflection about time and self-management have on procrastination, anxieties about time and feelings of frustrations? Have any negative attitudes you might have had about time changed? If so, how?

Time is the inexplicable raw material of everything. With it, all is possible, without it, nothing. Time is the most precious of possessions...No one can take it from you. And no one receives either more or less than you receive. You have to live on the twenty-four hours of time given you each day. Out of it you have to spin health, pleasure, money, content, respect and the evolution of your immortal soul. Its right use, its effective use, is a matter of the highest urgency and of the most thrilling actuality. All depends on that – including your happiness.

“We never shall have any more time. We have and we have always had all the time there is.” – Arnold Bennett

What is the true picture of your life? Imagine that there is an hourglass on your desk. Connecting the bowl at the top with bowl at the bottom is a tube so thin that only one grain of sand can pass through it at a time...That is the true picture of life. The crowded hours come to you always a moment at a time!

Sports Update - ISD Varsity Volleyball beat Indianapolis Baptist, 15 - 4, 15 - 7. The JV Team didn't play. Player of Game was Pia Marie Paulone with 4 service aces and 13 assists. Our record is 5 - 1, and the next game is against Northwest on Tuesday, September 5th.

ISD Cross Country met Heritage and Covenant Christian yesterday. The running course was longer than we expected (more than 3.1 miles). Only three ISD boys, Robbie Welch, Nick Curtin and Drew Robarge attended the meet. From a total of 19 boys, Robbie got 16th place, Nick Curtin got 17th and Drew got 18th. The boys never gave up against many good runners! We plan to practice harder for our next meet against Speedway/Tri-West at ISD on Wednesday, September 6th.

Phone repairs and Changes – Do NOT contact Dan Stutler with your repair or changes. You need to get a Phone Request Form from your department's secretary, complete it and send it to BJ Helton, Switchboard Operator. She will schedule the repair through the State's Department of Information Technology. That agency will schedule the repair or change with Ameritech. The process usually takes two weeks.

Need Paper – If your classroom or office needs paper, Dave Morphew can help. He has a wide assortment of paper in many sizes, textures and colors. Contact him during the HS lunchtime, after school or between 10:30 – 11:20 or 1:35 – 2:25. PLEASE do not contact him at other times because he is teaching classes.

The secret of dealing successfully with a child is not to act like a parent. – Mel Lazarus

My Trip to Aguascalientes, Mexico

Occasionally, the Daily Bulletin will print a story from a student explaining an interesting event or outstanding achievement. The following is taken from an essay by Micaela Paulone.

Last summer, I went to Mexico for the Pan American track games. The USA team coordinator picked the USA Deaf players. Along with me were 3 students from Maryland and one from California. After arriving we only had one day before the games began. After practicing during the day, we went to the greening ceremony. Canada, Cuba, the USA, Mexico and Guatemala were competing. We wore our uniforms and everyone was taking pictures of the opening ceremony. We felt famous because the Mexican people were very fond of the USA players. We took pictures with them, communicated (mostly yes and no stuff) and traded. I traded for a Mexican pen and shirt.

The next day we had to get up early for the games. I was in the 12-13 year old age group. Our first event was the 80-meter run. I placed 4th in the first race and 5th in the second one. It was a bad day for me – the Cuban girl was so fast! On the following day, I ran in the 400 m. and led until the last 150 meters. I had trouble breathing because of the different air and finished in last place.

In the last game, the hurdles, there was no event in my age group. I was sad that I couldn't join, but my coach tried to see if I could compete in the next age group 14-15 year olds. One of the other USA players, a 14-year old, became sick so I was able to move into her place. In the hurdle race I got a quick start and soon found myself two hurdles ahead of the Mexican girls and ended in 1st place. My time was 19.4 seconds (pretty good and fun too!) The medal ceremony was cool and many people in the audience were amazed that I had won.

The rest of our time in Mexico was spent shopping and we were invited to a party at the governor's house. I'm sure this experience will be one of my life's favorite memories.

Announcements

Sports Update – On August 25, the ISD vs. Martinsville, Ill game ended with a score of Martinsville – 66 and ISD 14. ISD's very young team played hard but needed more experience. The quarterly points were 1st: 20 to 8; 2nd - 6 to 6; 3rd - 12 to 0; and 4th - 28 to 0. Highlights of the game included Robert Haney rushing 18 times for 204 yards and 2 touchdowns, and Enzo Hicks ran for a 2-point conversion.

The ISD Football Team played North Adams, Michigan on September 1. ISD lost 45 to 16. The scoring results each quarter were: 1st - 14 to 0 2nd - 7 to 16 3rd - 8 to 0 4th - 16 to 0. Highlights of the game included Robert Haney rushing 18 times for 147 yards. Robert ran 68 yards with nice blocking on the play for a TD. He also returned 70 yards on a kickoff for a TD. Onye Davis ran a conversion PAT for 2 points. Justin Reynolds passed successfully to Michael Muckenfuss for PAT 2 points. Robert Haney also made 25 tackles and one interception. A very young team, who will only get better with experience, competed and got hot and excited in the 2nd Quarter. But, North Adams ate the clock in the 3rd Quarter for more than 8 minutes. This seemed to take a lot out of the ISD team. Starting QB Enzo Hicks and several key players were sick or injured and missed the game. However, some young players including J.T.(Justin) Reynolds as backup QB and Flave DuPree as backup Fullback did very well and were the bright spots of the game.

Phone Directories – Wednesday, September 6 is the last day to submit changes for the new 2000-2001 Phone Directory. Send your changes to BJ Helton. Thank you.

American Sign Language Classes for Staff – At the end of today's Daily Bulletin is a list of class and times for upcoming ASL classes for staff members. The classes begin on September 11. Contact Gary Mowl if you have any questions.

Jeff Gordon Supports CSSD

On July 8, 2000, Kathy Hill, David Catt, Mr. & Mrs. Jeff Hossler, and Jackie McBroom went to Hoosier Park in Anderson, Indiana to earn money for the upcoming CSSD tournament to be held at ISD this year.

Jeff Gordon's car was there and inside was a computerized video racecar game. The cost to sit in this famous racecar and play was $1.00. Many people stood in line for hours waiting patiently to experience the thrill of sitting the Rainbow Special. Pictures were also taken for a charge of $5.00. All of the proceeds earned from the crowd were donated to the CSSD Fund. Many thanks to Jeff and Tami Hossler for their hard work and dedication. We earned $402.00!!

Volunteers are needed to help Tami and Jeff Hossler raise more money for CSSD. They will be selling bottled water on September 10th & 24th from 1:00 pm – 4:00 pm at 79th and Dean Road (between Allisonville Rd. & Keystone Ave.) More than 400 kids will be playing soccer at this location!! Sports Update - Both Middle School Volleyball Teams lost their games to a very strong Bethesda Christian squad. Bethesda last night. The 7th/th Grade team won its first match with our wonderful serves. But, the team choked in the 2nd and 3rd matches with several mistakes. The team's record is now 3-1. Coach A. Bippus says that she is very proud of the my players and wants them to keep up their efforts!!!

The ISD Varsity Volleyball Team had a tough lesson last night about starting flat and slow.... allowing Sheridan to build a 12 point lead at 2 - 14. After we took a deep breath, we were unstoppable with kills, blocks, and aces to tie the game at 15 apiece. We finally came our on top and ended the game, 17 - 15. The 2nd game was no funny business for Sheridan as we swept them off, 15 - 0! The Player of Game was Cherish Lewis. Her excellent and inspirational plays pulled us out in the first game. However, no statistics are available. Our current record is 7 - 1 The next game is today against Covenant Christian at 4:30 (Away). The JV Team played 3 lengthy games and showed great improvement in passing, setting, and hitting consistently. We won one game and lost 2 games. Keep working hard and you'll get better!!!!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Sports Update - Our JV Volleyball Team didn't fare well due to a limited number of players being able to dress. We lost 2 games to Covenant Christian. Our Varsity started off much better compared to Thursday night and handled Covenant Christian easily, 15 - 3. We got out of sync and couldn't find our groove and lost the next game, 17 - 15. The final game was worse at the beginning, but we held their 6-point lead and rallied back to tie at 11. We jumped ahead and captured the victory, 15 - 12. Player of Match was Pia Marie Paulone with 15 assists, 9 serve points and 2 kills. Our record is 8 - 1, and our next game is TODAY at Heritage Christian (Payback Time!!)

ISD played its best game so far last Friday night at Union Dugger. We played hard and competitively. However, we lost a heartbreaker to Union Dugger with the score of 12 to 6. The score was 0 to 0 at halftime, then 6 to 6 in fourth quarter. Then, Union passed for a TD down the middle with 26 seconds left as the game ended. It was a game in which ISD beat ourselves; we made too many mental mistakes that cost us the game. Again, a young, inexperienced team was a big factor in the fourth quarter. Some examples of our costly mistakes included our opportunities to score 3 times when we were in the Red Zone starting at 11 yards, 6 yards, and 5 yards, fumbling the football twice when we were on a roll or having a momentum, and some crucial penalties for holding including a PAT run successfully for 2 points which gave us an 8 to 6 lead, but it was called back and cancelled. Onye Davis ran for a TD, and Mike Corbin made 15 tackles. Both played very well. Robert Haney carried the 22 times for 160 yards. It was a game that we should have won, but, unfortunately, we gave away!

New Appointee - I am pleased to announce that Governor O'Bannon has appointed Mr. Greg Gantt to the Indiana School for the Deaf Board. Greg is a Senior Account Manager at Sprint and oversees relay service contracts and a regional account management team. Greg has extensive board and work experience. He has served on the Governor's Planning Council for People with Disabilities, the Indianapolis Mayor's Council on Disability, the Indiana Association of the Deaf Board, and the Indianapolis Speech & Hearing Association Board. He also previously worked as Program Director of the State's Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services Office and Director of Deaf Community Services. Greg is a resident of Fishers, Indiana and a 1978 graduate of ISD. He has two children, one of which attends ISD. Greg will start his term in October. Please join me in welcoming Greg to the ISD Board. - Scott Jensen, Chairman of the ISD School Board

ATTENTION ALL STAFF- Please look at your paycheck stubs. If you used any vacation, sick, personal or cop. time last pay period (8/19/00 to 9/2/00), it did not show as used on the check stubs. Please be aware of what accrued time you actually have and DO NOT try to use something you have already used. Molly enjoys reading, cycling and walking. Her special interests are promoting literacy for deaf and hard of hearing children and their families.

Loretta M. Qadie – Lori, which she prefers, is a Home Supervisor in Pod 3 of Koob Hall. She applied at ISD so she can improve her ASL skills, especially expressively. She was born in Indiana; however, she grew up in Kentucky. Lori has a BA in Communications from the University of Louisville and Associates from Vincennes University in ASL. She is married to Kenneth Abdul Qadir. They share their mixed lab named Zcces, which is five years old. Her hobbies include making quilts (a family tradition), reading especially biographies, autobiographies, politics and history. She has a special interest in local and national organizations within the Deaf Community.

Sports Update – The ISD Varsity Volleyball Team had a rematch with Heritage Christian yesterday, and we played one of best volleyball games this season. Their powerful middle hitters gave us a hard time as we lost 1 - 2. We handled them well in the first game, 15 - 9. They turned up their tempo and got ahead quickly and ended the match 6 - 15. The final game was the longest one with many outstanding defensive saves, dives, and blocks. We led by 5 points at one time but couldn't hold it as they rallied to win, 9 - 15. The Player of the Match was Cherish Lewis with 8 serve points, 6 kills, and several outstanding saves while being sick. Our current record is 8 - 2. We play Park Tudor today at ISD (4:30).

Opportunities

October 20, 2000 "Ebonics" - This workshop will examine the stylistic language variation among African-American signers and discuss parallels in the communication styles between hearing and Deaf African-Americans. Participants will be sensitized to the cultural and linguistic differences within the Deaf community and will learn how language variation impacts the interpreting process.

October 21, 2000 "Interpreting in 3-D" - Interpreting in 3-D is a lecture lab-based seminar which provides the participant a clear and concise framework for understanding the use of space in ASL. This workshop explores spatial semantics in ASL. It focuses on the interplay between body shifts (role shift), signing space, agreement verbs, classifiers, and other elements of spatial grammar. Participants learn to manipulate the various aspects of spatial grammar and develop strategies for presenting linear discourse - such as English - on a three-dimensional signing plane.

Both Workshops in October are presented by John Lewis, Certified Staff Interpreter at Gallaudet University. Mr. Lewis has an AA degree in Interpreting from San Diego Community College, a BA in French from San Diego State University and an MA in Linguistics from Gallaudet University. Mr. Lewis holds the CI and CT from the RID. This workshop will appeal to interpreters, students, Deaf community members and those who are interested in ASL and related aspects. Interpreters will be provided. Lunch is also included. For workshop location and costs, please contact Cynthia at Deaf Community Services, in Indianapolis at (317) 637-3947 or via e mail at cvanmanen1@aol.com.

November 10, 2000 "Team Interpreting" - Why is it that some teams are so effective and others seem to blow up in our faces? What do Deaf consumers feel about teams? How can we make this a successful partnership? Discussion will include what makes an effective team and what doesn't, how Deaf people are involved in the process, and strategies that can be incorporated by teams to create a successful interpretation.

November 11, 2000 "Sign to English" - This session will focus on Sign to English interpretations. Caroline will share tips and strategies and give us an opportunity to try them out in a safe, non-threatening environment.

Both workshops in November are presented by Caroline Preston, who is a certified Interpreter and Coordinator of Interpreting Services at CSUN in Northridge, California. She has a BA in English and an MA in the area of Deafness with an emphasis in Administration and Supervision. She holds the following RID certifications, MCSC, SC;L and the OIC:C. This workshop will appeal to interpreters, students, Deaf community members and those who are interested in ASL and related aspects. Interpreters will be provided. Lunch is also included. For workshop location and costs, please contact Cynthia at Deaf Community Services, in Indianapolis at (317) 637 - 3947 or via e mail at cvanmanen1@aol.com. Thanks to Wabounsee Community College, Marion County Public Library, Lilly, Catherine Huston and Sprint for their kind donations to make these workshops possible.

No one can make you feel inferior without your consent. – Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW STAFF AT ISD

For the next few days the Daily Bulletin will be welcoming our new staff by providing a brief autobiography. Please join in welcoming the following new staff members to the ISD family!

Amy Fenicle – Amy is a Language Arts teacher in Elementary Department working with students in the Third, Fourth and Fifth Grades. She came to ISD “because I like the school philosophy of Bilingual-Bicultural and the people at ISD are friendly. Also I love to work with deaf students and see their personal growth towards education.” Amy graduated from Gallaudet with a major in ASL Studies. She also has MA from Western Maryland in Deaf Education as an ASL Specialist. She has been married to John Fenicle for ten years (August 18th). She loves vacations, bicycling, reading, golf and shopping. Her special interests are meeting new people and attending workshops on education.

Carol Kunsak – Carol is a reading and English teacher in High School. She came to ISD because it has a good reputation in the Deaf Community. The school’s website also caught her attention, and she wanted to work at a Bi-Bi Deaf School. Carol is from Pittsburgh and missed her ten nieces and nephews! She enjoys alpine skiing, rollerblading, reading, traveling and swimming. Her special interest is T’ai Chi. She says, “I’m thrilled to start a new, exciting chapter of my life here at ISD. I’m looking forward to making good friends and exploring Indianapolis!”

Heidi Morris – Heidi teaches mathematics and social studies to Third, Fourth and Fifth graders in the Elementary Department. She applied at ISD so she could teach in a Bi/Bi school. She also says many wonderful people encouraged her to apply! Her background includes working as a residential advisor at St. Rita SD in Cincinnati for eight years and a Second Grade teacher also at St Rita for three years. She lives with her friend, Cami, and a Golden Retriever, Hunny, and a cat, Jas. Her hobbies include rollerblading, biking and reading. Her special interests include social justice issues.

*Editor's Note –
SORRY! For some reason my brain thought Suzanne and Morris, but my fingers typed Stephanie and Marcus. Age is surely creeping forward! Again, I am sorry to Suzanne Bono and Heidi Morris!*

Sheana Perkins – Sheana works as a secretary in the Curriculum Office. She applied at ISD because it is “a great working environment and an opportunity to put my working skills to good use.” She is the mother of with one on the way. The other one is her fiancé. Sheana is the oldest of four children and moved from Tennessee only last year. She loves to travel, shop, listen to music, complete fill-in puzzles and collecting stuffed animals and pillows. Her special interests include sign language, art, her faith, and her children. She really enjoys working for Glenda and Gary.

Tomorrow’s issue will highlight John Fenicle and Keith Westhoelter.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Sports Update – On Tuesday, The Middle School Volleyball Team played Heritage Christian at ISD. The 5th/6th Grade team played 3 sets but lost 16-14, 11-15, 4-15. The 7th/8th played very well in 3 sets and Coach Bippus was very impressed with their play through all three sets. It was very hot, hot game for us! The girls won the first game 15-13 and lost the next 2 games with the same score of 12-15. The Player of the Game was Micaela Paulone. She saved a lot of balls and served well.

Also on Tuesday, the Middle School Football "B" Team played the Christian Park Lions. Finally, we were equally matched up with size and skill level. On the first 2 possessions, Gabriel Paulone scored the longest run 55 yards TD, but it was called back. Then, with the next 2 possessions, Hipplito DeLucca scored his first official TD on 12 yards. Gabriel scored a 2-point conversion with the game at 8-0. In the next two quarters, the team battled well but no points were scored until the 4th Quarter. The Lions scored their first TD, but ISD stopped their chance for extra pts. The game was 8-6. On our last drive, we kept our offense active and utilized the 15 seconds. Hipplito scored his second TD on a 26 yard run. The final score was 14-6. It was the first victory of the season. A job well done!!!

The ISD Varsity Volleyball team matched up with Park Tudor Panthers yesterday and chased them out of our gym to stay undefeated at home. The scores were 15 - 6 and 15 - 5. The team definitely carried spirit from the heart-wrenching loss from Tuesday to Heritage Christian and performed excellently in every area. Everyone contributed to this key win. The girls beat our biggest rival 2 years in row! Dinner was on Coach Bippus!! The highlight of the match was Melissa's spike that was blocked at the middle and out of nowhere Cherish dove and made pancake save and then Valerie bumped it high enough for Pia to return the ball over the net. We got the ball back and Pia set it high for Valerie to overpower the ball into Panther's territory. Outstanding Effort, Girls!!!!!! The Player of the Match was Erica Hossler with 13 of 13, 100% serve efficiency, and 11 served points. Our record is 9 - 2. The next matches are at Maryland and MSSD this Saturday, September 16.

ISD JV Volleyball Team tried their best last night and battled against their opponents' strong serves. However, the team lost both games; the young ladies will continue to get better as they have full team now.

TODAY, Class of 2004 - Class of 2004 will have a meeting during lunch with Carol Kunsak and Suzanne Bono today. The freshman class will go to KRC and bring their food back to Room 7111 in the Vocational Building. Please remind the freshmen to go to Room 7111 from 12:10 to 12:45 today.

Do what you can with what you have where you are. — Theodore Roosevelt

Riley calls for more research, funding to prepare teachers

By Cara Branigan, Assistant Editor, eSchool News

As Congress continues to deliberate next year's spending, Education Secretary Richard Riley repeated the Clinton administration's call for an increase in federal funding to prepare teachers to use technology. Although most teachers and students now have access to computers, Riley said, teachers still are not fully prepared to use them. "We are asking Congress to double the funding—to $150 million—to help prepare [tomorrow's] teachers to use technology," he said. "Unfortunately, Congress hasn't fully agreed to this increase. But it isn't too late. In the next few weeks, they have another opportunity to fully fund this initiative."

Riley's comments came at the U.S. Department of Education's annual Conference on Educational Technology, held Sept. 11-12 in Arlington, Va. During the conference, officials showcased promising school technology initiatives and called for more research into what works and what doesn't. Riley, Federal Communications Commission Chairman William Kennard, and keynote speaker Eric Benhamou, president and chief executive of 3Com Corp., released a study that shows how instrumental the eRate has been in helping connect most public schools—especially those in high-poverty areas—to the internet. "eRate and the Digital Divide," written by the Urban Institute, shows that the eRate has provided more than $3 billion for America's public schools, three out of four public schools and districts applied for the program in its first two years, and per-pupil eRate funding for high-poverty schools was more than twice the national average and nearly 10 times that of the wealthiest schools. But despite the fact that the program targets the poorest schools, the most impoverished schools submitted the fewest applications. Also, larger districts and schools were more likely to apply than smaller ones, the study found.

Although this was only a preliminary study, the writers pointed out that future reports could be obtained easily and quickly because of the detailed information submitted by each school or district on its eRate application forms. Riley also announced the results of a second study, called "Teachers' Tools for the 21st Century: A Report on Teachers' Use of Technology," which found that although most teachers have access to computers, only half use them for classroom instruction. Based on information gathered from surveys conducted in 1999, this National Center for Education Statistics report found that teachers use computers mostly for word processing or creating spreadsheets, followed by internet research and practice drills. Teachers were more likely to use a computer if it was located in their classroom, while students were most likely to use computers outside of the classroom. Although 84 percent of teachers said they had at least one computer in their classroom, only 10 percent reported having more than five computers in their room. According to the report, the two biggest barriers to using computers and the internet for instruction are lack of release time for teachers to learn how to integrate computers into the curriculum (82 percent) and lack of time in the schedule for students to use computers in class (80 percent).

Promising practices Despite these challenges, pockets of innovation do exist in schools around the country, Riley said. At the conference, students and educators from select schools demonstrated how they have learned to use technology to enhance classroom instruction. Students from a Virginia-based organization called Kidz Online broadcast the entire two-day conference over the internet while nearly 600 participants listened and dined. High school students from South Burlington, Vermont, showed off digital graphics and animation they created in a course designed by English teacher Tim Comolli. In the course, students learn to use industry-standard graphic software such as Adobe Photoshop. Conference attendees gave two students from Mott Hall School in New York City a standing ovation after their speech about how technology has transformed the learning experience since every student and teacher at the school received a laptop computer. "I became the [technology] expert in the family," said thirteen-year-old Anthony Reyes in an interview. "My mom uses it. My whole family uses it. It's cool." Besides helping him to be more organized and creative, Reyes said his laptop brings information and resources right to him, which makes the trip to the library almost unnecessary. Mott Hall School commissioned a study of its laptop program by Metis Associates Inc.

to see how it affects student achievement. "Our research has proven significant improvement in writing, critical thinking, and research skills," said Principal Mirian Acost-Sing.

At the conference, Microsoft Corp. also released a study of its Anytime Anywhere Learning program, in which all students in a school own laptops that use Microsoft software. After three years of the program, research done by Rockman et al suggests that students become better writers, collaborate more in group projects, and are more involved in their schoolwork. The study also suggests that teachers who use laptops also show greater confidence in using technology tools.

A need for more evaluation Though conference speakers and attendees shared anecdotal evidence of technology's impact on learning, officials also called for more extensive research on the topic. The need for more studies was underscored by a Sept. 12 press conference in nearby Washington, D.C., in which participants called for a moratorium on technology spending until there is further proof of technology's impact. (See "Group says computers offer much glitz, little substance for schools.") Several speakers discussed tools and strategies they are developing to help them measure and evaluate the success of their educational technology programs. "The challenge we've had as a school district is, what impact is [educational technology] having on student behavior, achievement, and learning," said Liz Glowa, director of technology at Montgomery County (Md.) Public Schools. Glowa is working with Hofstra University Professor Charol Shakeshaft to determine how student achievement is affected by educational technology. Elliot Soloway, a professor at the University of Michigan, described a tool he and some colleagues are developing, called the Online Snapshot Survey, that allows schools and districts to gather input from teachers and administrators by conducting an online survey so officials can make more informed decisions about technology. "If you do a survey, you can get a sense of distribution in your district and where you should buy," Soloway said. He said once the web site is running, educators could choose from approximately 80 existing surveys or they could make their own.

Sarah Skerker, a technology specialist at Mantua Elementary School in Fairfax, Va., discussed a program developed by her school, called Comprehensive Interdisciplinary Performance Assessment (CIPA), that measures a culmination of students' skills—including the ability to use technology as a research, analysis, and communication tool. Groups of sixth-grade students are given a real-world problem they have two weeks to solve. Skerker said this test encourages them to use whatever skills they have acquired during their time at Mantua Elementary, which is a technology-rich school. All students at the school are assigned their own Alphasmart computer in the primary grades and eMate in the higher grades. Teachers record the students' decision-making and progress with a digital camera along the way. Because the results from these projects are so complicated, researchers from the University of Virginia are analyzing the data and helping to improve CIPA so officials can determine scientifically what impact the technology-rich education has on students' progress. Jim Nazworthy of the High Plains Regional Technology in Education Consortium (R*TEC) discussed Profiler, a tool that surveys teachers to assess their professional development needs. It's essentially a knowledge audit, he said. By taking the survey, teachers can assess their technology abilities, and Profiler helps them find someone at their school or district who can help them learn the skills they don't know.

Calling All Couch Potatoes! - Do you love sitting on your couch, eating potato chips and watching the Colts games???? Would you love the same experience at an ISD sporting event???? If your answer is YES, you could be the 1st ISD COUCH POTATO! PTCO is working to raise money to help ISD renovate the Preschool and Elementary playgrounds. The goal is to make them accessible to children with special needs. And, YOU, couch potatoes can help. Couch Potato raffle tickets will be sold forty (40) minutes before the selected home football / volleyball sporting events with the winner being drawn at game time. The winner of each raffle will select one friend, and together they will sit on this comfortable couch to watch the ISD game. The COUCH POTATOES will be served lots of tasty (but) junk food, such as potato chips, pretzels, M&Ms, cookies, crackers, peanuts and pop. The other ISD fans will be green with envy as you lounge in comfort while they suffer on their cold, hard bleachers. So, support ISD's playgrounds and buy MANY raffle tickets!

Ticket Cost: $1.00 for 1 ticket $5.00 for 7 tickets

The tickets will be sold at selected games (depending on weather and volunteers). The September 22 football game is the first game selected for the COUCH POTATO raffle. For more information, contact: Jodee Crace: JSCrace@aol.com; Barb Gantt: BAGantt@mindsoup.com; or Beth Slaven: The_Slaves@msn.com

Sports Update – ISD Varsity Volleyball Team played Edinburgh last night and paid them back with a victory, 2 - 1. Due to a disciplinary action, we started with different line-up and gave good battle in first game but lost, 7 - 15. The regular starters quickly controlled the 2nd game with smooth passing, delicate setting, and determined spikes and led by 10 points quickly. We finished them off at 15 - 4. The final game was a struggle as we couldn't finish them off, and we were down 10 - 12. We hung together and got 5 straight points. The Player of the Match was Valerie Sharer with 11 kills and 11/12 serving (92%) Our record is 11 - 3 with a home record of 5 - 0. Our next match is at Morton Memorial.

Preschool Open House – The Open House in Preschool, scheduled for September 28, has been changed to October 26. In conjunction with the Open House will be a Literacy Workshop for parents conducted by the Gallaudet University staff. Please adjust your calendars accordingly.

Educational Staff Attendance – On the new state appraisal forms issued last spring, the "Attendance and Punctuality" portion has been deleted. The Education Team uses the following guideline:

Outstanding	0 - 1 absences
Very Good	3 absences
Satisfactory	5 absences
Marginal	7 absences
Unsatisfactory.	9 absences

Even though there is no formal line for this part of the evaluation, the employee's comment sheet will be used to denote the employee's attendance and punctuality.

Need Volunteers? - We are very fortunate that we live in a wonderful country that is in many ways build on volunteerism. It is easy to visualize how many programs and projects would never evolve without the spirit of volunteers. Volunteers add to the richness, the warmth, and the very quality of our lives. Volunteers truly complete the circle throughout our communities with their work, compassion, friendship, leadership and inspiration.

With those inspirational words in mind, I have received several applications from various people who want to do volunteer work at ISD. These volunteers can work a variety of times to assist in your department. They have a wide variety of skills. If you are interested in having a volunteer, please contact me (Donna Stutler) at 311 or dastutler@isfd.state.in.us to discuss your needs. Remember, volunteers help make ISD WORLD CLASS.

Ball State Volunteers - During the BSU participants' stay at ISD, they must complete 15 hours of volunteer work per month. This year, we have 19 participants. At this time, they are working in the Residence Halls, Assessment Center, ASL Lab, Interpreting Services, Outreach Department, Athletics, and several other areas. If you have a project or projects that need assistance, please contact Donna Stutler so that she can post it in the BSU pod area. No project is too big or too small. Let BSU assist you with your projects.

ISDTV – After a very tiny fanfare, I am pleased to announce our first little ISDTV station. You can see it in action now. Walk over to the High School hallway on the 1st floor next from Linda Lloyd office. There is a TV sitting on a stand running ISDTV on a continuous basis (24 hours). The programs you are seeing now on the TV are actually broadcast from the IPTV servers in the Technology Center. ISDTV will eventually be run on all those TVs mounted on the walls all over the campus once the new school network is operational. Darin Turner will change programs now and then as we learn the best techniques to capture and manage video for broadcast. Darin and I welcome any public comments and feedback. Enjoy...

Sports Update - ISD Varsity Volleyball Team breezed past Morton Memorial last night, 2 - 0. It was almost a disaster however when Coach Bippus wrote down the wrong rotation in the 1st game. But, the girls managed to play well; 15 - 7. The 2nd game gave the team's starters some rest, and they enjoyed cheering from the bench; 15 - 3. The Player of the Match was Erica Hossler with 8 serve aces and 7 kills. The team's record is 12 - 3, and the next match is at home against Manual on Wednesday, September, 27 (4:30).

Students – IMPORTANT – Please DO NOT sit on the railing in front of the bleachers at ISD football games. Also do not bring footballs or other athletics balls to the football games. Principal Kovatch is concerned that someone will be injured falling off the bleacher railing or be struck by a car playing in the grassy areas. Thank you for your cooperation.

Activity Period – The Middle School and High School Departments will not have an Activity Period again until Wednesday, October 4.

Daily Bulletin – The DB will be published by Pam Lewis on Monday, September 25 and Tuesday, September 26. If you have announcements for the DB on those days, please send them to Pam Lewis at plewski@isfd.state.in.us.

Volunteers Needed – Volunteers are needed to assist with the Mr. & Ms. ISD Teen Pageant on November 16. The openings include stage manager, assistant stage manager, house manager, spotlight crew, backstage crew, reception committee, transportation committee, registration committee, activities committee and greeting committee. If you are interested in volunteer for one or more of the openings, please contact Cindy Pickering or Yvonne Catt before October 2nd.

FROM the PTCO CO-Presidents – Beatrice Pfaff and Rick Ogan want everyone to know that PTCO will cosponsor a “public hearing” to discuss the role of the new ISD superintendent on October 5 at 6:00 pm. The School Board’s ad hoc committee, which includes Jodee Crace and Scott Jensen, is asking the ISD stakeholders (PTCO, ISDAA, parents, IAD, Deaf Community Services, LEAs, Special Education Directors, etc.) what the role of the new superintendent should be. This information will help the School Board update the superintendent’s job description. The October 5 meeting is to help the committee gather information on the superintendent’s role. Please come to the meeting and invite others who are interested in ISD.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Students - IMPORTANT - Please DO NOT sit on the railing in front of the bleachers at ISD football games. Also do not bring footballs or other athletics balls to the football games. Principal Kovatch is concerned that someone will be injured falling off the bleacher railing or be struck by a car playing in the grassy areas. Thank you for your cooperation.

Sports Update - ISD Varsity Volleyball Team didn't rise to the challenge that Ritter brought into our building. We hurt ourselves with many errors in all areas but managed to keep the game close. The team is definitely a far BETTER team than Ritter, yet they got away from us - 13 - 15, 15 - 9, 13 - 15.

The Player of the Match was Brooke Aldrete with 9 assists, 1 service ace and 1 kill. Our record is 13 - 4, and the next match is against Kokomo Christian at ISD on Tuesday October 3. It was a frustrating evening.

What a beautiful day for the runners at Riverside host by Tech. High School! We had 8 different schools in the meet. The first race was freshmen and sophomores and had 26 entries. C.L. Young placed 20th (23:38), Nick Curtin placed 22nd (25:22), and Drew Robarge placed 23rd (25:58). The second race had 27 boys who were juniors and seniors. Tim Marshall was the only one involved and placed 27th (23:00). It was tough for him, because they were all experienced runners. Good job!

On Wednesday, MS Volleyball teams played Park Tudor. In the 5th & 6th Grade games, Park Tudor beat us 2 - 1. At first, the team was not playing at its best. But in the 2nd match, the girls showed them our best and beat them. In the 3rd match, Park Tudor worked hard to beat us!

The 7th/8th Grade Volleyball Team beat Park Tudor 2 - 0. The first game was an easy win at 15 -4. ISD improved its serving and 3-pass plays. In the 2nd match, the team didn't play its best. Park Tudor led with a score of 14-4. Amanda Krieger's serves made the team come from behind to beat them 16 - 14. The Player of the Match was Amanda Krieger. The team celebrated their win with no practice on Thursday. Instead, they cheered on the Varsity and JC Teams against Ritter.

New Family Orientation - Saturday's NFO is cancelled. Diane Hazel-Jones will conduct individual family orientations.

New from Interpreting Services - Brenda Nicodemus, one of our staff interpreters, has accepted a teaching position in the University of New Mexico's Bachelors Degree Program in Interpreting. During this time she will pursue a Ph.D. in Linguistics. Brenda will continue working at I.S.D. as a freelance interpreter until January. We are grateful to Brenda for her many contributions to the ISD community. When you see her, wish her well!

Deaf Heritage Week - As you may be aware, Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services will continue its tradition hosting the Deaf Heritage Week celebration in the Statehouse Rotunda North Atrium this Monday, October 2 from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm. You are welcomed to drop in during your busy schedule to say hello to everyone if you can. You will see a lot of community-related services and businesses displaying their items in booths.

DCC Meeting - Deaf Concerns Council will have its first meeting this year on Thursday, October 12th from 3:15 to 4:00 pm in the Distance Learning Room 7205. The agenda will be: a list of concerns; a possible vote for officers; how often we will meet; an action plan; and other.

United Way - This is a reminder that time is getting short for donations to the State Employee Contribution Campaign. If you plan to have money deducted from your paycheck, please turn in your form to Sylvia Applegate. State Personnel will handle the donation for a deduction from your paycheck. If you wanted to give a cash donation, please bring back the form and donation to Sylvia's office. All forms need to be turned in by October 10, even if you don't plan to contribute to the campaign. Sylvia Applegate does need the form back. Just put an "X" across the page. Sylvia thanks everyone who has contributed and those who have turned in their forms to her at this time. So far it looks like the school is reaching its higher level of donations ever. Thank s to everyone for contributing to these many worthwhile causes.

Letter to the Community Regarding ISD's Superintendent Search Process - Dear ISD Stakeholders,

As previously announced, Superintendent George Stailey will be leaving the position of Superintendent and taking a new position in ISD's Residential Program next year. As a result of this decision, the ISD School Board has established a Superintendent Search Planning Process in preparation for selecting a new Superintendent. Given the importance of this decision, the ISD School Board is seeking input from students, parents, staff, alumni, and other interested stakeholders. More specifically, the Board is asking the community for input regarding the qualities and skills that the new Superintendent should possess. To receive community input, the Board's Superintendent Search Planning Committee will be holding a public forum on Thursday, October 5th, 2000. The forum will take place at the Irene Hodock Library in Alumni Hall from 6:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. In the near future, the Board will also be distributing a survey to collect input from community members who are not able to attend the public forum. In closing, we encourage you to share your ideas and recommendations so that ISD will benefit from this transition and emerge even stronger. - Scott Jensen, Chairman, ISD Board
